Glee Club's Messiah, Trip Crowd Holiday

200 Voice Chorus Renders 'Messiah'

• A CHORUS of over 200 voices, including the University Glee Clubs, the Eldbrooke Methodist Church Choir, and the Air Force Singing Sergeants, supported by the 90-piece Air Force Symphony Orchestra will offer the third annual Christmas presentation of Handel's "Messiah" tonight and tomorrow night, 8:30 p.m., Lisner Auditorium.

Admission is free.

Besides the choral presentations, four soloists will sing excerpts from the famous oratorio. Peggy Schaaf, soprano; Rilla Rowe, mezzo-soprano; Master Sergeant Ivan Genuchli, tenor, and Staff Sergeant William D. Jones, bass, are featured.

The entire program will be re-broadcast during Christmas week by the facilities of Continental FM. A special version will be broadcast Christmas Eve over the Columbia Broadcasting system. The entire production is under the direction of First Lieutenant Robert L. Landers, conductor of the Air Force Symphony Orchestra.

The one and one-half hour performance is the only concert production of the "Messiah" in Washington this year, according to Mr. Landers. All persons planning to attend should arrive early because last year's productions brought overflowing audiences and late-comers had standing room only.

Marvin Lights Yuletide Tree

• PRESIDENT CLOYD H. MARVIN lit the University's Christmas tree yesterday, on the terrace back of Lisner Library.

The 25 foot tree was erected and decorated by the Engineer's Council which has planned this annual program for 13 years. The tree was presented by Dr. Martin A. Mason, dean of the University's School of Engineering.

Alfred B. Moe, president of the Engineer's Council, turned over to the Student Council the toys that the Engineer Council had collected for needy children at Christmas.

The University Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Harmon, sang Christmas music, and led others present in singing familiar carols.

Christmas Party

• THE ANNUAL Christmas Party in honor of foreign students attending the University will be given this afternoon at the International House from 4 to 6 p.m. Professor Alan T. Deibert, adviser to foreign students, will act as host.

Assisting at the tea table will be: Madame Nykoop, wife of the Minister of Finland; Madame Jean Baube, wife of the Counselor of the French Embassy; Miss Padma Rajapattirana, a student from Ceylon; Madame Henri de Turenne, Mrs. Henry Parsons Erwin and Mrs. John Brewer.

A short program of Christmas music will be presented.

Singing Troubadours Tingle For Arctic Ice-Bound GI Ears

By TOM WOJTKOWSKI

• THE UNUSUAL Washington weather over the week-end is nothing compared to what is coming up tomorrow for the hardy band of 31 Travelling Troubadours as they take to the skies once more in quest of ice-bound G.I.'s ears for the Christmas season's entertainment.

It's off to Iceland this year for the flying singers under the sponsorship of the Military Air Transport Service in cooperation with the State Department.

Council Grants Smith Power to Initiate Plans

By BRUCE JANSSEN

• BY UNANIMOUS AGREEMENT Thursday night, the members of the Student Council gave Bill Smith, vice president, their full vote of confidence to go ahead with his plans for the proposed change in Student Government.

Instead of voting on the plan as originally scheduled, Council

Debate Teams Place Second

• UNIVERSITY DEBATE teams captured second place with six wins, two losses, at the Hall of Fame Tournament, New York University, Friday and Saturday.

Barlow Wagman and Ted Lynch, the University's negative team won all four of its rounds, meeting St. Peter's College, St. John's University, St. John's College, and Rutgers University.

Robinson, Duggin Debate

Jim Robinson and Ken Duggin, debating on the affirmative, won two rounds from City College of New York and Brooklyn College; they lost two to New York University and Brooklyn Polytech.

Robinson and Wagman helped the University win first place over 32 other teams at last year's First Annual Hall of Fame Tournament, also held at New York University.

Prices, Wages Topic

The subject for this year's tournament was the national topic, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Adopt a Permanent Program of Price and Wage Control." Coaches George Hennigan and Henry Krebs accompanied the teams to New York.

Brooklyn College, Dartmouth College and Penn State University also had records of six wins and two losses. However, the judges awarded points to the teams in addition to their decisions.

Smith's Committee

Bill Smith's committee is composed of: Nancy Saunders, president of Mortar Board; Myldred King, president of Pan Hellenic; Helen Biren, chairman of Tassels; Edith Harper, secretary of Student Activities; Miss Kirkbride, director of Women's Activities; and Mrs. Richard Owens, member of the Faculty Wives Committee.

Besides incorporating warranted changes in the plan as outlined in the Hatchet last week, these members are also organizing the five division councils which do not already have a system of government, such as the schools of Engineering, Pharmacy, and Law. Also, the new system will not affect class officers elected for the current year.

Suggestions Urged

Suggestions and ideas are urged, and will be received in the Student Council post box on the first floor of the Student Union Annex. (See COUNCIL, Page 10)

Frosh See Skit

• A SECRET SKIT to familiarize freshmen with their class officers will be presented by the freshman class officers at a class meeting tomorrow, Government 1, 12 p.m.

At this meeting, freshmen will discuss plans for the All-U Follies. Also, the officers will consider proposals for civic projects and social activities.

All freshmen are advised to think of what part they wish to play in those activities in order to promote interest in University life, according to Dick Hudgins, class president.

of the Military Air Transport Service in cooperation with the State Department. The group will take off early Thursday morning from the National Airport. They will fly to Westover Field for winter gear, and arrive in Goose Bay, Labrador, for lunch. Then to Reykjavik, Iceland, and the surrounding territory where they will entertain United States military personnel. Keflavik Air Base will be headquarters for the singers.

Icelanders Literate

Iceland, with a population of 108,600, boasts a proud record of no illiteracy, anywhere on the island. Although practically sitting on the Arctic Circle, it has a climate warmer than that of New York City. In their preparations for the flight, the clubbers were urged to bring along both their ice-skates and their bathing suits, ample conditions providing for the use of both, not simultaneously, however. Many volcanic hot springs provide a South Seas swimming ground, or local ponds for the blades. Only two and a quarter hours of daylight will illumine their activities on their first day.

The singers are scheduled for shows straight through Christmas Day and are not planning to return until December 27. Christmas will be featured at the distant outpost, but the Troubadours will offer a varied program, for which they have been diligently practicing these past hectic weeks.

Carols Listed

Miss Anne Brazinski, a feature soprano, will sing carols and also popular music. Ethel Johnson, in her, "Sleeping the Christ Child Lay," and Marguerite Moore in "Lullaby at Christmas," will also solo. Popular Christmas music, like "White Christmas" and "Winter Wonderland" will be sung.

Other featured acts on the variety programs to be held throughout the island, will be the ever-popular Colonial Quartet starring Dick Hedges, first tenor; Charles Rhodes, second tenor; John Parker, baritone; and Wade Currier, bass.

On the female side of the singing troupers, besides the soloists, will be the Thrill-Billy Three-o, which stars Ginny Perrott, Joan Haag, and Ethel Johnson.

Contest Resumes

• TWO PERSONS have qualified thus far for the finals in the Hatchet Basketball Forecasting Contest Competition will be resumed this week when contestants will be asked to pick the score of the Buff-Duke game Friday night. Contest blank rules and procedural instructions appear on page 12. A prize of $5 awaits the lucky prophet who beats out other weekly winners in the run-off contest.

Hatchet Vacations

• THE HATCHET STAFF will take its second holiday of the semester beginning next week. The next issue of the Hatchet will appear January 5.

Staff members are invited to a meeting tonight for the purpose of taking yearbook pictures. Merry Christmas, everyone.

Red Cross Postpones Blood Unit

A RED CROSS worker signs up football stars Andy Davis and Dave Shiver as first blood donors in the recent drive.

• THE SECOND bloodmobile visit scheduled to be on campus tomorrow, has been cancelled by the Red Cross. In announcing the postponement of the visit, the Blood Recruiting Office announced that Red Cross centers must arrange their blood-mobilizing schedules "to maintain an even flow of blood."

Pledge of blood by University students will be redeemed in February when the bloodmobile makes its next visit.

The Red Cross was impressed with the reaction of the students who donated. Ellen Ingersoll, Blood Drive chairman, said. Of the 159 students who pledged blood, 29 were unable to donate—due to colds. 138 pints of blood were given last Wednesday in Woodhull House.

Kappa Alpha fraternity had 100 per cent participation to lead all student organizations. The Air Force ROTC unit had 85 per cent donation. All organizations may increase their current percentages before the next bloodmobile visit.

Groups Set Pre-Yule Plans

• "THE STONE FLOWER," a Russian color film will be presented at International Student House, 1825 R Street, N.W., Saturday, 8:30 p.m. The film is a fairy tale of stone carver, Danila, whose artistic sense urges him to create a perfect flower.

• There will be a folk dance Thursday, 8:30 p.m., Building J. Everyone is invited.

• Delta Tau Delta announces the pledging of the following men: Bill Campbell, Jim Turpin, Ed Jones, Ray Miller and Al Zimmer.

• $125 worth of dolls and toys was collected at the joint Delta Tau Delta and Delta Gamma Doll Dance last Saturday, and contributed to Bill Herson's Doll House.

• Hillel features George Steiner, concert master of the National Symphony Orchestra, tonight, 8 p.m. He will deliver an informal chat on Beethoven and his music. Rabbi Simon Burnstein will speak on the "Torah and Culture," Thursday, 8 p.m.

Wednesday's coffee hour will feature Professor Wilson Schmidt of the economics department, 3 p.m., Hillel House, 2129 F St., N.W.

• THE SPANISH CLUB's traditional Christmas Party will be held tomorrow, 8:30 p.m., Woodhull House.

The Baile Panamericano held recently at the Shoreham Hotel, in conjunction with Georgetown College and the Georgetown School of Foreign Service was well attended. Over one-third of the 150 couples were from the university.

Carmen Diaz, a student of the university and a member of the Spanish club, was chosen queen. After receiving an orchid, she gave a demonstration of the mambo with Sidney Arias, president of the Spanish Club, here.

• THE BAPTIST STUDENT Union will sponsor a Christmas Carol concert, 8 p.m. Friday, chapel of the Baptist Building, 1628 16th St.

A Christmas Retreat will be held Friday, December 28, Clifton Park Chapel, Piney Branch and Old Bladensburg Road.

Reservations may be made by calling DE. 1219.

• SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT Joe Inzanna announced today that he will be accepting applications for Senior Class Follies director in the Student Activities office from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

• PAT REYNOLDS, Mortar Board member, was the winner of a $50 gift certificate from Woodward and Lothrop's on the Delta Gamma Raffle last week.

The raffle planned to help Delta Gamma's National Blind Project, will aid both blind and sight conversation centers throughout the United States. Over 500 tickets were sold and the winning ticket was drawn by Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of Women's activities.

• DR. ADELHEIT SCHIMAK of Vienna, Austria presented an illustrated lecture of Austrian scenery last Friday night at a meeting of the German Club.

Miss Schimak, a high school teacher in her homeland, is in Washington to attend Catholic University classes on American culture. She is in this country under the auspices of the American Association of University Women in coordination with the Fulbright Plan of student exchange.

Slides picturing Austrian cities and Alpine landscapes were shown accompanied by commentary on present day Austrian culture.

Hans Thalberg, cultural attaché and secretary at the Austrian Embassy, was also present.

• MRS. BIRDIE Harris of the Student Co-Op Store has asked that all students with book receipts from A through C pick up their books or money at the earliest time.

• THE RELIGIOUS Council will present the second in its series of coffee hours on the general theme "Religious and Western Civilization" tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. at Woodhull House. The speaker will be Dr. Robert Meiger, associate professor of physics, speaking on "Science and Religion."

The previous talk was "Religion and History," by Dean Myron Koenig of the Junior college.

All students are invited to attend.

Delegates Explore Opening For FTA Local Association

• TWO DELEGATES from the University chapter of Future Teachers of America, will meet with other area chapters to explore the possibilities of forming a District Association.

The delegates, Darrell Drummond and Jon Buckner, will represent the William Carl Reudiger Chapter at the conference. Edward Baker, president of the local chapter, will be the acting chairman, and will preside over the conference, scheduled for sometime in January.

The proposition was initiated by Ross Parker, program director here. At last week's meeting, the membership voted for the delegation to be sent.

Other area schools sending delegates to the conference besides the University, will be American, Howard Universities, Wilson, and Minor Teachers' Colleges.

Iceland

Moore, Lois Elliott, Mary Slotemaker, Joanne Winslow, Patricia Moore, Paula Zamansky, and Virginia Perrott.

Also Wendy Stachura, Rosemary Glenn, Ethel Johnson, Joan Haag, Beverly Perry, Dick Hedges, Sam Favarella, Ted Lynch, Bob Tolson, Arleigh Green, Charles Rhodes, and Alan Gindoff.

Also John Parker, Gwynn Perce, Cortland Randall, Bob Minor, Bill Hines, Wade Currier, Bill Reed, comedienne, Rosemary Glenn, Director Robert H. Harmon, and Mrs. Harmon, accompanist.

Always coming up with something new, the Traveling Troubadours now also have aboard a new-fledged quintet. This freshly innovated fivesome will feature Bill Reed, Bob Tolson, Sam Favarella, Wendy Stachura, and Lois Elliot.

The entire troupe will be split up into small entertainment groups and will appear in the small outfits, hospitals, and radio-shacks. It is also a possibility that the Icelanders themselves will get a peek at the choralliers for the first time in their history. Sacred music and regular show numbers from "Brigadoon" and "South Pacific" will be sung.

Psi Chi Initiates

• PSI CHI, honorary psychology fraternity, recently announced the following initiates: Dorothy Allinger, Joseph Becker, Ralph Bradford, Lynda Cahoon, Milton Cole, Gerald Dattow, Miriam Drimmer, Harold Emerson, Edward Engel, Mary Elizabeth Evans, and Sidney Friedman.

Also Leon Goldstein, Phyllis Jacob, Margaret Johnston, Robert Kahn, Herbert Kaufman, Walter Kyser, Arnold Levenson, Bernard Lubin, Edward Merchant, Richard Michaels, Louis Pess, Geraldine Pilzer, June Robert, David Rodgin, and Burton Wright.

Statistics Show Decrease In Universities Enrollment

By IRVING SHAPIRO

• IF YOU HAVEN'T seen some of your old college friends recently, don't worry or start checking your breath. An Office of Education survey shows that the institutions of higher learning in the District lost a total of 2,426 students from last year's enrollment. There are now 31,351 students going to college in Washington as compared to 33,777 last year.

Throughout the colleges and universities of the nation, a reported 2,116,000 are enrolled, a decline of 7.8 per cent from last year's 2,296,592 enrollment. The peak enrollment year was 1949 with 2,456,841 students.

McGrath's Statement

Dr. McGrath of the Office of Education says "it is difficult to gauge the effect of the military situation on college enrollment."

He cited the large graduating classes of last June coupled with the dwindling number of new students due to the low birth rate of the 1930's which would have been expected to cause a decline in the number of college students.

Korean Crisis

However, he added that "the Korean crisis has taken its toll of potential college students, as evidenced in the decline of one-eighth in the number of male freshmen reported this fall."

A total of 5,278 freshmen registered in District institutions this year, as compared to 5,524 last year. The number of veterans enrolled dropped from 12,366 last year to 9,999 this year.

Stoppage To Decline

Dr. McGrath said the freshmen decline would have been greater, had it not been that the average age of college entrance is below induction age and that the draft boards were required to take older men before the younger ones.

Riggs' 'Green Lilacs' Offers Cowpokey Music, Dances

By DON LIEF

• "GREEN GROW THE LILACS," Lynn Riggs' cowpokey folk-drama, marked the debut here of Director Arnold Colbath in Lisner Auditorium, last Friday and Saturday. The University Players' first production of the season gave hope for improvement, despite the twin lacks of a paying audience and a decent script.

The audience, over 1400 at Thursday's free dress rehearsal, slumped to less than 200 during Friday's mixture of snow, ice, sleet, and rain. Perhaps 500 pioneers saw the Saturday show. Financially, this is a flop.

Play's Plot

As most people know by now, Riggs' play was the progenitor of "OklaHoma." The addition of music was wise because the plot and characters just don't stand out by themselves. Briefly, the story involves Curly McClain, a boasting cowboy who is rebuffed by young Laurey Williams. Despite his supreme self-confidence, Curly is jealous of Laurey's hired hand, Jeeter Fry. Frightened by Jeeter's advances at a neighborhood party, Laurey rushes to Curly's sympathetic arms. So they are married.

A shivaree on the wedding night gives Jeeter the provocation to set fire to the haystacks. Curly and Jeeter fight; Jeeter pulls out a man-sized frog-sticker, which, in the struggle, he falls on, dead. Curly, arrested for murder, breaks jail the night before he is scheduled to be acquitted for justifiable homicide. The posse, knowing that he has returned to the farm to see his wife, Laurey, rides up to bring back the fugitive. Laurey's Aunt Eller, as shrewd as a Philadelphia lawyer (is this simile still allowable?), befuddles the posse, and the audience, with some feldor about the "ol' Yewnited States" being "a buch o' furriners." Whereupon the posse withdraws quietly, leaving Curly and Laurey to celebrate their belated wedding night by singing sad cowpokey songs and looking at the lumpy haystacks in the moonlight.

Colbath Improves Skit

Even though Mr. Colbath has improved the script by his cuts, the play remains a difficult one, containing the typical troubles of folk-drama—realistic dialect and action without obvious caricature, enthusiasm without hamming.

Christmas Presents

Anyhow it's only seven days until Christmas so let us give out a few presents. Maida Yates, as Laurey, did a fine job showing the quirks of a sentimental, saucy teenager. Verlyn Brown has yet to tackle a part that is not comedy.

Hillel Heralds Religion Talks

• HILLEL HERALDS the initiation of monthly talks on religion with a talk by Rabbi Simon Burnstein, Thursday, 8 p.m., Hillel House, 2129 F St., N. W.

Rabbi Burnstein will speak on the "Torah and Culture." He will seek answers to questions about religion being consonant with modern life and the exact status of the Torah in the role of religion today.

Rabbi Burnstein heads the Southeast Hebrew Congregation and is a member of the Rabbinical Council of Washington. He received his ordination degree, Smicha, at Yeshiva Chofetz Chaim of New York. His article, on modern interpretations of the Talmud have appeared in Harpades, Jewish law magazine. Also, he served as spiritual leader of Young Israel of Claremont Parkway, New York.

These talks sponsored at Hillel will feature luminaries of the Orthodox, Conservative and Reformed Synagogues.

Phil Abend is chairman of the Program.

Landis Lectures On Atomic Needs

• THE FOURTH in a series of midday lectures sponsored by the University branch of AIEE will be held tomorrow in D. Room 304.

Guest speaker will be John Landis from the Atomic Energy Commission. His topic will be "The Generation of Atomic Energy," and will include three parts, namely, a review of nuclear fundamentals, the need for Atomic Energy in the next 50 years, and some AEC plans for fulfilling these needs.

Landis accepted a position with AEC after completing his undergraduate studies in engineering at Lafayette College and graduate work at Princeton University. Landis is presently assigned to the Industrial Power Branch of Reactor Development Division, Atomic Energy Commission.

All interested persons are invited to attend the lecture by the president of AIEE.

but as long as she contributes such witty portrayals as Ado Annie, who cares? Kudatsky, as a peddler, tended to stereotype his character, but his were the only honest gestures in the show; he showed a good baritone voice in his solo with Davie Rogers as Aunt Eller. Miss Rogers, who is a perennial player, seemed so intent on saving the show that she pitched her role far too high for the rest of the cast; her actions and speech were not particularly tied to the aged cackling Eller.

Dialect Trouble

Bob Pelikan's Curly and Paul McVey's Jeeter both suffered from dialect trouble. They're both newcomers and, if they are allowed to play a role here they are not bow-legged, they may yet show to good advantage. Bill Cain was top-flight in his small bit in the shivaree.

Director Colbath deserves a chunk of praise for his administrative ability; he corralled Miss Elizabeth Burtner and the Dance Production Group for the liveliest portion of the show. Their colorful folk-dancing in the second act got the show moving after a dismal first act, second scene. Colbath also rounded up the Colonial Quartet for entr'acte folk songs which were good, if a little too over-worked between scenes.

Professional Music Furnished

Professional calibre folk music (I almost said hill billy) was furnished by Emmett Nanna and his boys. For his adding as much music as possible to the dreary plot, Colbath rates a nod.

Christmas Stocking

• THE CHRISTMAS SEASON brings with it a peculiar admixture of lightheartedness tempered by a serious mood that is restraintsive. The giving and receiving of gifts falls into this pattern of reflective joyfulness. With this spirit in view the Hatchet assumes the role of Saint Nick and merrily bestows some gifts it fancies will be well received. Regretfully most of them are only fantasies, but other Christmases will come abounding with realities.

Dr. Marvin—A full scale, concrete and limestone, dream university to replace the tiny, paper mache, architect's model of the vision.

Student Life Committee—A ruler—so the committee can get its rules straight. Those regulations on student activity eligibility have taken some surprising turns.

The Basketball Team—Find your stocking before Christmas morning. Beat North Carolina State tonight and Duke on Friday.

Tompkins Constructors—Vitamin B, bricks, anything to speed the dedication of Monroe Hall to usefulness.

Max Farrington—A successful year, his second, as president of the Southern Conference. A term minus the excitement of bowl bid problems.

The Hatchet would be grateful if Santa would leave a budget booster in its mail box. We'd like to please everyone with greater news coverage, but eight pages doesn't usually include everyone.

Fraternities and Sororities—Rushees.

Pledges and Goats—Fraternity and sorority pins.

Andy Davis—A post graduate career marked by the same brilliance he achieved in his undergraduate days.

The Bloodmobile—1015 pints of blood from Colonial students. Idaho University won't top us.

Dean Kayser—Continued non-censorship of his renowned lecture on Cleopatra. The glamor girl of the Nile takes on more appeal with each succeeding lecture as does the Dean.

Bo Rowland—A '53 football schedule that includes games with Slippery Rock Teachers, Gallaudet, and Georgetown.

Edie Harper—A garter to match the one she received at the Goat show.

The Registrar—Immediate cessation of hostilities in Korea that would have our young men battling with their professors and their textbooks.

To the Grounds & Building Department—More rose gardens.

All Students—The almost unattainable combination of a wonderfully pleasant Christmas followed by a similar satisfaction after final exam week.

In The Mail Bag

Typical Smear

Dear Editors:

• IT'S ONE OF the oldest tricks in the world: if you don't like what someone writes, don't criticize what they say, just belittle them personally. The attack on Miss Lebowitz in last week's Hatchet is typical "smear," not channeled properly into a critical analysis, but merely contemptuous derision of character.

In the first place, it is not Scarrow's or Miller's function to determine the qualifications of Hatchet reporters.

In the second place, the article was a feature, carrying a by-line and represented an elaboration of the premise. If you're going to disagree, that's your privilege, but the only "unnecessary, incorrect, and prejudiced blows (of the extremely foul type)" are the ones displayed in your letter.

Very sincerely,
Names withheld by request

Thank You

To the Editors:

• MANY THANKS FOR your wholehearted support of my committee's student Government Reorganization Program. Without such generosity on your part we could not have effectively publicized the program on campus.

Very sincerely,
Bill Smith

Advertising Sheet

• OPEN LETTER TO BUDDY WOLFE, Hatchet Sports Editor.

Dear Buddy:

This letter is a petition to the administration, to be reprinted if possible in your column, for more space to be devoted to sports in the Hatchet.

Last week's so called "sports page" was not a sports page at all. It was an advertising page. We are not interested in reading advertisements for cigarettes. We are interested in the reporting of fraternity and intramural athletics, of which there were none in last week's Hatchet.

The varsity basketball write-ups and the column explaining GW's football schedule were all well and good; but what is the Hatchet sports' page for if not to promote intramural athletics within the university. It is obvious to us that the Hatchet cannot promote anything but Chesterfield cigarettes with an ad five columns wide x 10 inches high on the main sports page.

We sincerely hope that you will reprint this in your column and send out a plea to all students to write to the administration asking for a real newspaper—not an advertising sheet.

Old Grey Mare Ain't What She Used To Be 'Yars' Ago

• WELL SHADES OF Old Glory, there's life in the student body yet! The plan to adopt the Colonial 13 star flag as the symbol of George Washington University has met with so much enthusiasm and agreement on the part of the students, that immediate plans are underway to have the flag on sale after the Christmas Holidays, possibly in the Student Union or the Co-op Store.

Students Answered Call
Expecting the usual lackadaisical attitude displayed by most students at this University toward any efforts to raise their morale or spirit, we were agreeably surprised to find that an incomplete count shows that 165 students took the time to fill out last week's questionnaire. One hundred and sixty approved both the adoption and the purchase of the flag. Three approved the idea but would not buy the Colonial flag. There were only two people who did not like the idea—probably spies from Maryland and Georgetown.

The general student reaction seems to be overwhelmingly in favor of using the flag made by Betsy Ross for George Washington and the 13 colonies. Even the University basketball and football players are all for the proposed new flag and Andy Davis says it's a great idea.

Cholser Originates Idea
Cheerleader Roger Cholser, who thought of the original idea, hopes use of the flag is only a first step toward raising more student interest and increasing the pride in our University.

He is currently discussing plans with a supply house on making arrangements to supply the flag to students. Further details will appear in the next Hatchet issue.—L.S.

• THE DIAMONDBACK, student newspaper of Maryland University, had suggested editorially that Governor McKeldin should have invited an outside group, instead of the Board of Regents, to determine the purity of athletics at College Park. Dr. Byrd, president of the University, contended that "some students" were not fully educated "in a sense of newspaper responsibility and how to exercise it." In defense of journalism, the Washington Post editorialized with a stinging rebuttal to Dr. Byrd.

"What is the responsibility of an editorial writer on Dr. Byrd's campus? Is it to echo whatever the university authorities may say? Or is it to express the newspaper's opinion clearly and independently? It would have been better education, we think, if Dr. Byrd had told his students, along with Voltaire, 'I wholly disagree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it'—at College Park or anywhere else."

WHO'S WHO—Ha Ha!

The sarcastic laugh comes from Gettysburg College over this year's selections for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Representing the student body, the campus publication, The Gettysburgian, voices the gripe that the annual affair is fast becoming a farce.

The problem is that a dozen or so students who are deserving of the honor are forced to share the spotlight with also-rans, selfish publicity agents and favorites who have no right to be in the coveted circle. The fault lies with the selection committee in that it refused to treat the selections with importance and dignity which they deserve while the student body looks upon Who's Who as one of the highest honors bestowed upon a member of the graduating class. As a result the quota is padded with selfish individuals who are only interested in furthering themselves.

As a solution The Gettysburgian suggests a revised selection committee. Now composed of three students and six faculty members, the committee should consist of students, equal to the number of faculty members, who would represent a greater cross-section of the student body. Secondly, the committee should not be afraid to stand for or against an individual despite the opinion of the faculty. Finally the faculty representatives serving on the committee should be notified of their duty in time to study the merits and demerits of the candidates so that the final selection will be a fair and impartial one.

Foreign Exchange:

There are 31,000 international students from 29 countries attending American colleges and Universities estimates the Institute of International Education.

The institution administers an exchange system in which students from foreign countries find placement in our schools, and American students desiring to study abroad are aided in their efforts. A branch office of the Institute in most of the foreign countries helps the student select the best curriculum and the most interesting academic program. Living facilities and scholarships are also arranged through the organization.

Scholastic visitors fall into four general groups, the majority of which finance their own education, and come here because of the specific academic program. A considerable portion comes from U. S. possessions but are classified as International Students by the State Department. Many students are displaced persons and are in the process of becoming citizens while they study. A fourth group comes from occupied countries with the intention of financing their own education, but because of the international (See DEAD GIVEAWAY, Page 10)

WELL, Foggy and Bottom have returned after a week of recuperation from the Chi O pledge formal... just in time to bring you all up to date on the latest Union scuttlebutt before those Christmas holidays set in. Dressed in our Saint Nick garbs we be making the gala round of parties in order to build up strength for the coming slaughter of exam time.

Seen whooping it up at the DG-Sigma Chi exchange were Nancy Hainsey and Jim Ferguson and Marilyn Tate and Pierre Favre. Phi Alpha Dick Wolf and Barbara Cohen have set the date for next May. Bob "Goldy" Goldstein has already been tapped as usher. Louise Hos, ADPI, received a happy surprise when her fiancé, Jim Knowles of USC, visited her last weekend. Another ADPI Jackie Capell off to West Point to visit Bob Carpenter, TKE.

KD pledges Anne Smith, June Jenkins and Joan Tichaz went to AGR's dance out at Maryland Saturday night. Delta Gamma flooded the Hotel 2400 Friday night to throw their annual pledge formal. Around the room were the Beale brothers, Ed DTD, with pledge Pat Adkins and Tom SX with pledge Ginger Brooks. Nan McKinney and Al Harrison, KS, smoking their Egyptian brand caused quite a stir. Phi Sigma Sigma held their pledge formal at the Old New Orleans.

The Thetas and KD's entertained at Open Houses this weekend with everyone making most of the old saying "eat, drink, and be merry." The indignant Phi Alps are trying something new... a hay ride in December at Phil Kapnek's farm in Rockville, Md. Should be rather cold, eh what?

Congrats to the new Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Margie Cole. Phi Alpha Herb Kotz has been accepted into G.W. Medical School and Arnie Levinson into the U. Va. Medical School. Both are jumping with joy.

The Chi O's coffeed with the Sigs last week and will hold their annual slumber party in the room Thursday night.

The Deltas started a pinning spree this past week. Jim Merow to Joan Feder, ADPI, Fred Warder to Betty Ormsby, KKG, and Frank Antonelli, DTD, to Southern Belle Jackie Henderson. And also although heretofore omitted by mistake we wish to announce that Carolyn Hanby, KKG, was crowned Queen by the Deltas at their Fall Formal, Dec. 1st. While speaking of parties and such, the Sigma Nu's had one Friday night during the snowstorm. Malcolm Thomson, SN, during the party, came up with a formula for "Super Ultra Extra Dry Martini's," which were so good that after two, it was Saturday. Jack Hindricks, SN, who was helping Malcolm mix, also found that they aided and abetted the cause of better if shorter parties.

Seen stepping thru the "keyhole" of fleur de lls at the Kappa pledge formal December 8, were Jean Coates, Elizabeth Evans, Pat Finegan, Virginia Leetch, Janet Simpson, and Peggy Weedon, who were waited around the floor by their dates to the tune of "I Love You Truly, KKG."

Saturday night, "The Phi Sig Players" put on Chuck Richardson's "Kristmas Carol." Invited guests of honor were his Highness, Lord Mayor Warren Hull, SAE, and Lady Ingersoll, KAT. Stars of the cast were: Steve Balough—Scrooge, Bob Gray—Bob Cratchet, Gamblers—Joe Inzina, Bruce Sandin, and George Richardson, and Dagon Cœ was Tiny Tim. Following the play was the Christmas formal, with a good crowd of alums, brothers and pledges, and guests.

Browsleys was bulging with celebrating KD's and friends after the Goat Show; and did you know you can get eight (8) in a booth—sort of? The Kappa's and the PIKA's started the Christmas season off with rounds of carols at their coffee hour.

Foggy and Bottom must trundle back to wrapping our Christmas goodies for all those good boys and girls, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Mistletoe yours,
Foggy and Bottom

Meet Your Prof

Dr. Acheson Attracts Students With His Extensive Personality

By ANNE HOLFORD

SURROUNDED by photographs of international celebrities, Dr. Edward Campion Acheson counsels University students to financial success. The third floor of Government has a path worn straight to room 308 by students seeking aid or just to "talk things over" with Dr. Acheson. And no wonder! To be able to find such a completely fascinating personality on campus is, indeed, the good fortune of students at the University.

Fraternity Member

He is a member of Chi Psi social fraternity, Phi Gamma Gamma Social Finance Society, and Delta Phi Epsilon Foreign Service Society.

He obtained his PhD at London University, London, England.

Dr. Acheson worked as a reporter on the Hartford Courant, Hartford, Connecticut, and as a foreign correspondent for the Saturday Evening Post. While working as a foreign correspondent he had his headquarters in England. He worked in most European countries and to quote Dr. Acheson, "It would be easier to name the countries I did not work in rather than the ones I did work in. They were Poland, Switzerland, Portugal and Greece." He is President Truman's special representative in Northern Europe, which includes the three Scandinavian countries, Iceland, Holland, Belgium, and France.

He spent much time in China, and during that time he was financial adviser to General Stilwell (Vinegar Joe).

Honors Heaped

He has many well-deserved honors heaped upon him. His name is in Who's Who in America right below that of his famous brother, Dean Acheson. The Honorable Thor Thors, Icelandic minister to the United States, awarded the Knight of the Grand Cross of the Icelandic Falcon to Dr. Acheson for outstanding service to Iceland.

He came to the University in 1936 as a Professor of Finance. He has the reputation around campus for being very understanding with students who have things explained nine or ten times in class and who still feel it necessary to come up to his office and have them explained again.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 30...THE SQUIRREL

This nimble-minded nutcracker almost tumbled for those tricky cigarette mildness tests. But he worked himself out of a tight spot when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness just can't be judged by a mere puff or one single sniff. Smokers everywhere have reached this conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

By LOUISE BIGELOW

Question—What do you think of the proposed Colonial flag?

● Charlene Gaylord—(Freshman)—Since our spirit here at G. W. seems to have hit an all time low—anything that will stimulate some school spirit seems to be a good idea.

● Pat Robinson—(sophomore)—I'm a transfer and have noticed the lack of interest in the school by most of the students. I think everyone ought to get behind the proposed Colonial flag plan and really show people you're interested in your school.

● Faith Clark and Peg Stevens—(special students)—We're d— Yankees and feel that a symbol of Northern-Southern unity is wonderful, especially such a long-standing one.

● Frank Lacey—(junior)—Good idea! Keep G. W. in the South!!

● Russ Leone—(junior)—As a cheerleader I think it is a very good idea as this school needs more of that good old college spirit at their games. It is amazing what those blue and buff shakers did to enliven the spirit at several of the football games, so the Colonial flag should definitely help. Think the D. A. R. will approve.

● Jim Awtry—(sophomore)—If this is G. W.'s answer to the Confederate flag it's a poor one. However, if the flag is an original idea for a school symbol it's a good one. I do think that the basic thought behind it—to bolster school spirit—is exactly what this university needs.

situation suddenly find themselves without sufficient funds. The State Department has established a fund to aid students caught in this catastrophe.

The State Department has further developed its international education program to bring selected students to American schools from occupied countries. They are chosen according to academic ability, and urged to select courses that will aid them in helping to rehabilitate their homelands after graduating. At Michigan State, a plan known as "Adventures in world understanding" gives exchange students an opportunity to see the American side of life by letting them visit farms, public schools, churches and various social events.

Dance Season To Open

• THE FIFTH SEASON of the Connecticut School of the Dance and the fifth American Dance Festival are announced by President Rosemary Park of Connecticut College, Ruth Bloomer and Martha Hill, co-directors of its School of the Dance.

The School will be in session from July 14 through August 24 on the Connecticut College campus at New London. The fifth consecutive American Dance Festival will take place during the final week of the School, August 18 through August 24.

Detailed plans for the School and the Festival, its faculty of educators and artists, are incomplete at this time. The general pattern of the 1951 season, the most successful of the past four sessions, will serve as the general model for next summer's plans.

In announcing this fifth season of concentrated study and performance of contemporary dance, Connecticut College reaffirms the original purpose of the project.

Dancers Provide Broadway Artists

By WARNER KLEMM

• THE PHRASE, "they start at the bottom," ordinarily applied in success stories gains specific application in the attainments of the University graduates specializing in dance. From the modest beginning steps of Dance Production Group III under Miss Elizabeth Burner University students have risen to the Broadway stage, Martha Graham's Dance Workshop, and even to teaching dance in universities.

Former Colonial Jerry Ross is currently appearing in Max Liebman's "Show of Shows" earning $500 a week for a four-minute dance routine in each performance. Ed Lum is also in New York now doing advanced work with the Martha Graham group there. Barbara Lyddane, former University dance major, now teaches dance at the University of Redland in California.

Appeared with Players

The dance numbers for the Players presentation of "Green Grow the Lilacs" were given by dance students. Among these were the well-known Colonials Joan Higginson and Bill Cain, along with others with whom dance is but a sideline. Several weeks ago five students taught a master lesson in Modern Dance at Coolidge High School. Television appearances have also been part of the activities of the Dance Production Groups.

Sixty Students in Groups

The sixty students on the campus who avail themselves of dance instruction in the production groups are usually majors in other fields. But regardless of other studies, classification is made on the basis of advancement in dance techniques. The forementioned success stories all began in Group III, the beginner's group. The advanced work reported in the Hatchet is usually performed by those of the more highly skilled Group I.

From there, perseverance and Dame Fortune are the essentials needed to move up the ladder of fame and success. Miss Burner, dance director, reports that the Dance Production Groups offer to all students in the University an opportunity to start a professional career or sideline hobby in dance. She wrote in a recent publication, "They Start at the Bottom." "If one has never had any work in Modern Dance, he would start at the bottom, usually at a professional school or elsewhere.

Dances Have Goal

At the University, starting at the bottom infers something to work toward. This goal is provided by further study in advanced groups as one's work on endurance, balance, flexibility, and agility in body technique progresses. Then one's comprehension of dance composition enlarges and performance ability is enhanced.

All Students Eligible

Group III is open to all students in the University. For information inquire at Building J. Classes are held each Monday from 4 to 5:30 p.m. This group will remain open until January 14 for new students. After the Dance Concert, to be given March 7 and 8, the beginner's group will be reopened for enrollment.

Council

An auxiliary change in the system of student government was brought before the council by Nancy Dilli, director of Freshman activities. It included a list of activities labeled major and minor, which would limit the number of such activities in which one person could participate. This plan, in completed form will be tabled until the change in the constitution is approved.

The council also paid tribute to the rejuvenated Colonial Boosters in the form of a letter signed by the individual members of the council.

SAE's All-U Grid Champs

• SAE's ALL-U championship football team poses for a picture on the monument grounds after beating pharmacy. The players are: (Bottom, left to right) Dick Schmeltzer, Emmett Nanna, Mike Vlahos, Jerry Slaughter, Tom Hopper and Bill Giglio; (Top, left to right) Jack Hurton, Bill Brown, Hal Kilmell, Joe Logan, Ned Harrison, Marv Stephens, Bill Collum and Bill Shaw, coach.

Hatchet Picks All-Stars

• THETA DELTA CHI, runner-ups for the fraternity football championship, placed three men on the Hatchet's Fraternity All-Star Football Team, while SAE, the champions, placed two.

Jerry Sandler of Phi Alpha, who is a freshman and a former football player from Woodrow Wilson High School of D. C., was named the outstanding back in fraternity competition. Theta Delta Chi's Sturdy center, Sam Portwine, was chosen the best lineman.

Sandler might have been picked for the defensive platoon instead of the offensive seven. He was Phi Alpha's safety man on defense and played tailback on offense. Besides being a speedy runner and tricky faker with scissor-like legs, Sandler was the best punter in the league. When Charlie Goldberg was not throwing them, Sandler proved to be an accurate passer for the Phi Alphas. He won his fraternity's first game by tossing a long pass for a first down on the last play of the game to defeat Phi Sigma Kappa by one first down.

This is the second year in a row for Portwine on the All-Star squad. The stocky center plays a rough game in the center of the line and is a hard man to move, both on offense and defense.

Other repeaters from last year's All-Star team are Roy Schlemmer of Delta Tau Delta and John Neary of PIKA. Schlemmer set something of a record this year by intercepting five passes in one game. Roy is a fast boy (he won the 880-yard run in last year's intramural track meet) and loves to carome all over the backfield, knocking down opponents' passes. Neary never misses a pass and was the key blocker on many of PIKA's touchdown runs.

More or less a dark horse in the defensive backfield is Kappa Sig's Frank Steadman. After scoring his fraternity's first touchdown of the season, Steadman went on to become Kappa Sig's high scorer and a demon on pass defense against the "big wheels" of the league. His 50-yard touchdown jaunt with an intercepted pass was the main reason why Kappa Sigma almost upset powerful Theta Delta Chi in that surprise 6-6 deadlock, which the latter team won on first downs.

KS Favored To Capture Swim Meet

• AT LEAST TEN fraternities will be out to dethrone champion Kappa Sigma in the All-U swimming meet, which is to be held Sunday, January 13, 8 p.m., in the Y.M.C.A.

The competition in this year's splash contest is expected to be much stiffer, as members of the disbanded varsity swimming team have been voted eligible to compete by the I.F.A.C. Although a final vote on the matter has not yet been taken by the Intramural Council, indications up to now are that the swimmers will be allowed to participate because they have no other means of swimming against competition at GW.

All place winners in the meet will be decided upon a time basis from all heats and sections. Before a team can be considered in the competition for the team title, it must have a minimum of five entrants.

Standard intramural awards will be presented in the following events:

50-yd. freestyle
200-yd. freestyle
100-yd. freestyle
100-yd. backstroke
50-yd. backstroke
100-yd. breaststroke
50-yd. breaststroke

200-yd. freestyle relay (4 men)
150-yd. medley relay (3 men—50-yds. back, breast and freestyle.)

Each individual will be limited to two events and one relay. The meet will be governed by rules as outlined in the Official Swimming Guide for 1951-52 and such rules as are set up by the Intramural Department.

With the Women

By BEV BICKNELL

• A TOP GW swimming team composed of Mary Freeman, Barbara Hobelmann, Ann Quakenbush, Joan Tichaz and Lyn Henderson scored a victory of 19 points over American and Maryland Universities on December 8 at the Sports Day held on the Maryland Campus. The girls' volleyball team lost to Maryland, 14-16.

Bowling and basketball are once again heading the list of winter sports. Information on joining the bowling and basketball clubs can be obtained in Building H.

The Hockey Club completed a successful season, suffering few losses this year. Their last game was a tie with Maryland, 1-1. Nancy Hopkins is the new manager.

Winners of the recent archery tournament were Mary Slotemaker, first place; Joan Tichaz, second place; Abby Oliver, third place and Kay Thompson, fourth place. Thompson was chosen as the new archery manager.

Amy Schaum won last week's tennis tournament over Savitri Sastroamidjojo, 4-6, 6-1. Lillian Skufca won the Nine Hole Golf Tournament with a score of 44. Others placing were Anne Finton with 51 points, Ada Lou Haines with 53 and Lois Lee with 54.

In inter-sorority events, Chi Omega won the volleyball tournament and Sigma Kappa took the ping pong tournament.

In League Openers

PhiA, Sigma Chi, SAE, PiKA Win

By STEVE LEVY

• SIGMA CHI and PIKA will probably spend part of the coming vacation trying to figure out how to beat each other in their game which comes up Sunday, January 6. This game could very well decide who will be top team in League-A.

PIKA, 31—Phi Sig, 28

With Jim England's 15 points leading the way, PIKA broke a 13-13 half-time tie and pulled away to win a hard fought game. It was close all the way, with George Kou-sidered an upset when they beat TEP, who had lost to highly regarded PIKA by only 3 points in the league placement playoffs. Controlling the backboards and hitting on most of their shots, SAE had little trouble as they held the lead all the way. Bobby Clemente's 10 points were high.

Phi Alpha, 34—Sigma Nu, 11

Completely outclassing an undermanned Sigma Nu team, Phi Alpha rolled to their first League B win. Bobby Goldstein was the big man with 9 points and Buddy Wolf was close behind with 7. Ostrone was high for Sigma Nu with 6.

TKE, 28—Theta Delta Chi, 15

The loss of Bill Szanyi, leading scorer in interfraternity play last year, has taken all the punch out of the Theta Delta Chi offense. The Tekes controlled the ball during most of the game, stopping any threat by Theta Delta Chi. Jack Lewis' 17 points were high for the game and put him into the lead in the individual scoring race.

Sigma Phi Ep, 28—Acacia, 16

Acacia just didn't have it Sunday night as Sigma Phi Ep completely outplayed them. "Bones" Taylor used his height to good advantage in dunking in 14 points.

As there are only three teams in League D, Kappa Alpha drew a bye Sunday.

Here is the list of the five high scorers in the four leagues.

tras' 13 points keeping the Phi Sig hopes alive.

Both clubs showed good ball handling, while neither retained control of the boards. PIKA made one more field goal and one more foul shot than Phi Sig.

Sigma Chi, 28—DTD, 22

After showing a terrific scoring punch in the playoff games, both clubs put on a disappointing performance. Sigma Chi made 9 out of 48 shots from the floor, while DTD could only sink 10 out of 50.

Holding a one-point lead throughout the last half, Sigma Chi had to freeze the ball in the last minute to stop the Delt's rally. However, Sigma Chi can thank accurate foul shooting for the win. They made 5 to 2 for DTD. High scorer for the game was Ken Belliveau with 7 points.

Frats in Prelims at Uline

• SINCE GW has no freshman or junior varsity basketball teams this year, two top fraternity squads will shoot it out in a preliminary match before each varsity game, all prelims to begin at 7 p. m.

Sigma Chi, which plays Phi Sigma Kappa in tonight's preliminary, and Phi Alpha, which goes against Delta Tau Delta before the Duke game Friday, have already played in Uline Arena once this year. PIKA succumbed to Sigma Chi, 46-40, while Phi Alpha knocked off TEP, 48-24.

In the Sigma Chi game, Corky Devlin and Richie Gaskell were high men for the winners with 11 points each. Warren Lytle got 16 for PIKA's losing cause.

Bob Goldstein and Mary Rosenblatt accounted for 30 of Phi Alpha's 48 points in their game. TEP's Bernie Borson hit for 11, but could not stop the rout of his team.

Scoring Duke Game Hard Job in Contest

• DOPING OUT the correct score of the Duke-GW game Friday night is the task confronting entrants in this week's Hatched basketball forecast contest. A comparison between the two teams can be obtained by reading the basketball story on page 12—and it'll take some sort of prophet to figure this one out.

Watch the Hatched for the game or games specified each week. Turn your entries in to either the entry box in the Student Union lobby or to the sports editor's box in the Student Union Annex. All entries should include your name, address, phone number and scores predicted. Good luck!

Contest Rules

1. Entries will be judged solely from the standpoint of closeness to actual scores. Selections of winners and losers is not important. In case of ties, those involved all qualify for the run off.

2. A contestant may enter the contest as often as he desires but may submit only one entry for each specified game.

3. Entries must be turned in by 3 p. m. the day of the designated game. Write legibly.

4. Winning any one of the specified games qualifies a contestant for competition with other weekly winners in guessing the score of the Colonial-Georgetown game, March 7.

Five Also Face Duke

• THE COLONIALS' "Freshmen Firemen Five" will be out to extinguish two more "hot" ball clubs this week when they meet N.C. State tonight, Uline Arena, 8:30 p. m. and Duke Friday night, same time and place.

Freshman Ed Catino, Dick Drake, Bob McDonald, Ernie Ortiz and Archie Tollis officially made the jump from high school to college ball in one year against West Virginia, last Tuesday. Although it was Tex Silverman's last minute shot in overtime that broke an 81-81 tie to give GW the win, the frosh quintet was the main factor in the upset of the Mountaineers, pre-season favorites to take the Southern Conference.

Tollis Irks Mark

As several members of the team expressed it after the game, Tollis played "fabulous ball." Archie was complete master of both backboards, stole the ball consistently from Mark Workman and so angered the All-American by his tight defensive work that the latter committed five seemingly intentional personal fouls and was forced out of the game early in the third quarter.

McDonald and Catino gave the Colonial an early one-two scoring punch, Mac from the inside and Ed with one-handers from way out. Ortiz controlled the ball for the Colonials during their freeze late in the game, besides scoring the first basket of the overtime period. Drake entered the game cold, late in the fourth quarter, and came through with two spectacular layups that sent GW ahead when the Mountaineers were threatening to win it.

Talk With Mr. X

'Drake Enabled GW to Win'—X

• MANY READERS of last issue's "Talk with Mr. X" are under the mistaken impression that this weekly interview is printed for the purpose of criticizing head coach Bill Reinhart and the basketball team. To the contrary, I ask these questions merely to present Colonial fans with authoritative views on the games, the team and the coaching from either players or coaches who know far more about basketball than the average spectator.

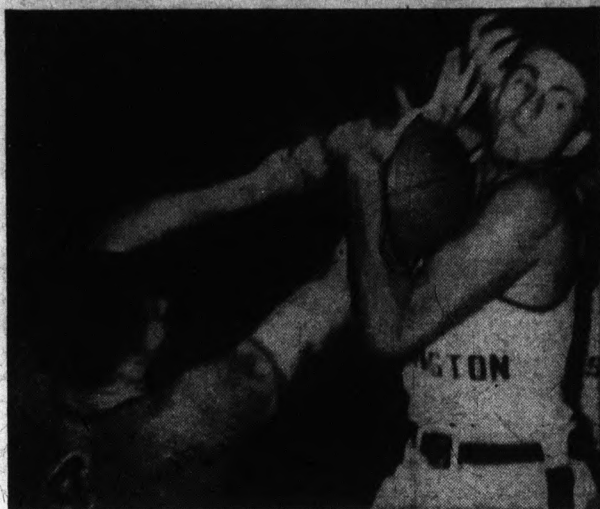

Because the first person I talked with had a few critical attitudes toward Reinhart, everyone has been jumping to conclusions. The following conversation, which was held after the West Virginia game, is evidenced that some players think highly of Reinhart and the team, while others have different opinions. Mr. X in this interview is a former GW basketball star who played first string under Reinhart for three years.

Reporter—Hiya, X. Say how about that coaching strategy tonight? Reinhart really used his head, eh?

Mr. X—Yeah. His tight defensive setup was responsible for Workman's fouling out. He substituted very shrewdly. I would say that he played a long shot-by putting Drake in when he did. That kid came through in the clutch.

R—What do you think were the main factors that enabled GW to pull this big upset?

X—There were many, but the one which in my opinion really was decisive came in the last quarter when GW's lead was whittled down to a deficit. Reinhart took a chance on Drake. This kid came off the bench and sank two quick baskets, putting GW ahead. Of course the last basket of the ball game by Silverman was directly responsible for the victory, but if Drake hadn't consecutive years, has their weakest basketball squad in a decade this season. Gone are their two high scorers, Sam Ranzino and Jack Horvath. Gone also is their best ball handler, Carl Bubas.

The impact of the Wolfpack's losses are showing up in their games to date. They barely squeezed by their first three Southern Conference opponents, Davidson, Furman and Wake Forest and were then upset by little Texas Tech by one point. Nevertheless, the Wolfpack will cause plenty of trouble for the Colonials, as they represent the first time GW will be playing a squad which is taller than they are. In their starting lineup State has one boy 6'9", another 6'8", still another 6'5" and two more 6'4".

Duke Shows Inconsistency

Duke, on the other hand, is the team that the Colonials could pick on for an upset. Selected along with West Virginia to win the Southern Conference, the Blue Devils have been extremely inconsistent so far this year. After waltzing over powerful Temple, North Carolina and Bradley, a small Furman squad, came along and beat them. However, in their last outing the Blue Devils walloped VMI, 102 to 45.

Dick Groat will be the Colonials' chief concern Friday night. A comparatively small man at six feet, Groat established a new collegiate record last year by scoring 831 points, the most any college player has ever amassed in a single season. The talented Blue Devil gave evidence that he is ready for another great season as early as Duke's first game, in which he scored 33 points in an 85-49 rout of Temple. Groat ran amuck again in that massacre of VMI, throwing in 32 points.

If Reinhart can find a way to stop him as he did Workman, Duke might find themselves upset for a second time this year. B. W.

there. Don't ask me whether I would have done the same as Kern did—that is, drive in for a shot in those few remaining seconds. I can't condone Kern for losing the ball—it's just one of those unfortunate things. If he did make the shot—well, the final outcome of the game would have been obvious.

R—How about the starting lineup this time?

X—I thought it was pretty well chosen. GW took advantage of its overall height superiority (with the exception of Workman. GW was the taller team on the floor).

R—Did McDonald still look green to you?

X—During the opening minutes of the game, Mac looked like the only poised boy out there. He drove well from the corners and took his share of rebounds. He is most dangerous offensively when he drives from each corner. He's not too good at the pivot shot yet. In other words, he can't spin and shoot with either hand or hand off as well as Holup can.

R—It looks like a real scrap between Catino and Ortiz for the other starting guard position. Do you think Ortiz should start?

X—No. He could be utilized more in spots. Against West Virginia, for example, he shone when needed. Besides Silverman, the other guard post should go to Catino for the present. He's aggressive and shows plenty of drive. When he starts to find the range from outside, he'll be a mainstay.

R—Remember how West Virginia beat GW last year by 30 points with the same team they have this year? With that in mind, do you think this year's team or last year's is better?

X—This year's is the better all around. It's deeper in reserves and in height. However, they lack the experience the 50-51 outfit had. Experience can't be acquired overnight. —B. W.
